

Brigade to Get New Ambulance?

Sidney and North Saanich Volunteer Fire Department may acquire a new ambulance.

The new machine will cost $7,173.60, and will be purchased in Vancouver if North Saanich municipality agrees. It is to be a GMC 1968 product.

Approval of the motion to make the purchase came swiftly and unanimously Monday when fire and ambulance committee chairman J.E. Boshier reported on prices the committee had been offered on a new vehicle.

One other alternative price was $7,659 from a Victoria firm; the model offered there was reported as having no power steering or power brakes, a factor in the purchase of an ambulance.

Ald. Boshier said the fire committee had reserve funds in the amount of $9,587 set aside for just such a purchase as this. The purchase would leave more than $2400 in the fund.

Speaking to the motion, Mr. Boshier said the present ambulance could break down at any time, and that the engine was in need of a complete overhaul.

Mayor A.W. Freeman wanted to know if the purchase would have any bearing on the by-law of cost-sharing the committee is now considering with North Saanich.

"No," said Mr. Boshier, "that's a separate thing. But we should include cost-sharing in any agreement of purchase. "We need this vehicle right away. And the sooner we get the order in for it, the sooner we'll have it," he added.

"Now, what'll happen to the old one?" asked the mayor.

"That can be retained," said Alderman Boshier. It can be given the thorough overhaul it so badly needs and can be used to give service to outlying districts such as Deep Cove. It can also be used to tow a portable fire pump, although I hardly think it'll be called out more than twice a year. It will answer the need of North Saanich for an extra vehicle."

Constable Kenneth Morrison, has been posted to Sidney from Prince George, augmenting the staff of the Sidney detachment, R.C.M.P. The policeman who is married with two daughters, has been on the force 11 1/2 years.

Lane Closure Stuck At Second Reading

Sidney By-law No. 312 bogged down at second reading Monday night when Alderman Mrs. E.M. Sealy raised some questions about it.

The by-law is to close a lane-way running north and south between Third and Fourth Streets and to open another connecting lane. Affected is adjoining church property south of Beacon Ave.

"Suppose someone—not now, but say, 10 years from now—wanted to get out of there in a hurry?" asked Mrs. Sealy. "Has this been considered?" "All the properties owned there have agreed to the alteration," countered the mayor. "But you might have a point."

The church, which owns the land in question, is trading a section of land it owns to the town in exchange for another piece of land adjoining the property at another point so it can build a hall onto its property.

The bill will be up for third reading at the next council meeting.

Aid Society Turned Down

A request for exemption from the Sidney business license made by the St. Vincent de Paul Society was rejected Monday night by council.

"In dealing with this," Mayor A.W. Freeman recommended, "we'll have to consider how we deal with the Salvation Army's Thrift Store, which is a similar kind of proposition to what is before us here."

"I would recommend that a business license must be on the record, because we have to know who is doing what kind of business in Sidney."

"However, it is another matter indeed if you decide to return the society's cheque to them—we may consider this later. They'll be using Cornish's old place, I understand."

A letter will be sent to the society setting out the town's position.

The Club's participation in the Sidney day parade was cancelled for this same reason.

An overnight ride will take place on August 5 and 6. Arrangements are being made for an endurance ride on September 17, other riding clubs will be notified of this event, and asked to participate in it.

On Saanich fair day, members will be running the concession booth next to the ring.

The club has joined the B.C. Horse Owners Association, an organization whose aims are to protect horse owners, and open up new riding trails in conjunction with local clubs.

The events held by the club during June were highly successful. A paper chase over new trails in the Mount Newton area, was followed a week later by a breakfast ride. This covered the Cloak Hill and Mount Newton district and was fittingly concluded with camp-fire ham and eggs.

On the first fun day held by the club a wide variety of competitive events attracted both adult and juvenile riders. The program included items for both English and Western riders and was most ably judged by Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Temblett. Then the small fry in particular enjoyed a wiener roast.

After July a fun day will be held regularly at the club grounds on Downey Road on the 3rd Sunday of each month. Starting time is 10 a.m. and spectators are welcome.

Grass No Hazard, Marshal Declares

There were 15 ambulance calls and four fire calls during June, the Sidney fire and ambulance committee reported to council Monday night.

Several of the ambulance calls were to highway accidents.

Alderman J.E. Boshier, chairman of the committee, said a number of calls had been received by the fire marshal on long grass in the area. However, the chief had found, upon inspection, that none of the areas was a fire hazard. The calls were prompted by the way different properties looked rather than their potential as fire hazards.

Mr. Boshier added that following a boat fire in the area recently, one of the marinas had purchased a portable pump, so that "they can, to a certain extent, now take care of any fires that may occur."

His complete report will be available at the end of July. An indication of his findings was the statement that a 2 acre lot with minor services was at least 50% greater than a 10,000 square foot lot for servicing."

Sunset Riding Club Plans Busy Summer

This month's meeting of the Sunset Riding Club was held on July 3 at St. John's Anglican Church on West Saanich Road. Future activities for the summer months were discussed and finalized.

Classes on western riding are now taking place at the club grounds every Tuesday and Wednesday. Aubrey Temblett has very kindly offered his services as instructor. It is hoped very shortly to arrange similar classes in English riding.

The July fun day and other events for this month, have unfortunately been cancelled owing to the presence of strangers in

TO STUDY COLE BAY RESERVE

The meeting of the Capital Region Planning Board on June 20 last had a few highlights, Reeve J.B. Cumming reported to North Saanich council last week.

The North Saanich delegate commented as follows:

"It was announced that the Capital Region Planning Board had been appointed by the federal government to make a study and report on the Cole Bay Indian Reserve. The Indian Agent, J.V. Bosse, emphasized the importance of the initiative coming from the Indian bands themselves and outlined the terms of the reference of the study. The study is to cost $2,100. The Department of Indian Affairs. I emphasized the interest North Saanich took in this matter and offered all possible co-operation both to the study group and the Indian Band themselves."

"Discussion took place on the need for marina standards throughout the area initiated by correspondence from this municipality. "School District No. 63 has asked for help from the Board in location of schools in Sidney and North Saanich. "Mr. Northy, assistant planner gave a brief analysis of demand and costs on lot sizes in Central Saanich and North Saanich and noted.

"I feel this has gone far enough," said Councillor Mrs. Nell North. "The racing season is coming soon, and it's time to show our colors."

"I agree," stated Councillor T.C.M. Davis. "We should tell them that failing a reply we will take further action through our solicitor."

Mrs. North seconded the motion adding that "time is of the essence."

It was carried unanimously.

FIVE PRINTS OF LOCAL ARTIST SHOWN AT EXPO

Many residents of the Sidney area will be interested to learn that Mrs. Evelyn Burt-Griffith, a local enthusiastic photographer has had five prints accepted for the Canadian Pavilion at Expo, 1967.

Mrs. Burt-Smith has a very enviable record of acceptance in most of the international exhibitions, salons and art museum showings - to mention only a few, Toronto, Winnipeg, New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, Los Angeles, San Diego, Seattle, San Francisco, and London, (England). The Canadian government accepted her print for the Canadian pavilion at the Brussels Universal and International Exposition in 1958, Mr. Karsh being one of the judges.

Mrs. Burt-Smith, a gold medalist, is also interested in movies and slides. Her slide programs cover much of British Columbia, and go as far south as San Diego, and to England.

graphs. She does cover work, and international magazines have printed her photographs.

It is interesting to think that Sidney, British Columbia, is to be represented in this way at Expo, 1967.

Colorful Comedy Stars Cary Grant

Cary Grant is starred with Samantha Eggar and Jim Hutton in the Columbia comedy "Walk, Don't Run" at the Gem Theatre, Sidney, Thursday through Saturday of this week. The action is centred in Tokyo when the Olympic Games created a massive accommodation shortage and many opportunities for the type of sophisticated comedy in which Cary excels.

Samantha is secretary at the British embassy in Tokyo, and the fortunate tenant of a tiny apartment. When Cary moves in as a house guest he brings along a "guest" of his own. The romantic situation that is created is tied up with an unexpected sequence as Cary finds himself a competitor in the Olympic Games.

Danger threatens from every corner in Paramount's feature thriller "The Night of the Grizzly" at the Gem Theatre on Monday, July 17, for three days. Filmed amidst the magnificent scenery of the San Bernardino range in southern California, this is an outdoor adventure with a different slant, with the villain a mammoth grizzly bear.

Adventure, excitement, suspense and drama are combined in the story of a family's struggles against hostile elements in an untamed wilderness. This outdoor movie of the early West is a return to the type of wholesome entertainment that all the family may enjoy. Clint Walker, Martha Hyer, Keenan Wynn and Nancy Kulp are the stars.

TO CREATE ABOYNE ROAD

Permission has been granted for the opening of a 10-foot gravel road off Ardmore Drive. The road is located where allowance has been made for Aboyne Road, immediately north of Yarrow Road and running east from Ardmore Drive.

North Saanich council approved the road as long as the applicant, G.A.P. Townesend, pays for the cost of its construction and upkeep.

Reeve Cumming said this was council's policy on opening such gazetted roads, and added that the municipality would take responsibility for the road once enough people lived along it.

No More Concessions To BCJC-N. Saanich

North Saanich Municipality has refused to grant the British Columbia Jockey Club any further concessions in the struggle over fees at Sandown, the local raceway.

Daily licence fee required by the municipality from the BCJC is $50 for 1967, $75 for 1968, and $100 for 1969, or a flat $75 per diem for each of the three years. The fee schedule was set up in a letter to the BCJC written by the municipality on April 19.

The jockey club was said by the Racing Commission to have reached an agreement with the municipality at the end of April. The municipality took this to mean acceptance of the schedule set up earlier. However, counter proposals were contained in a letter of June 13 from the BCJC.

On June 20, North Saanich sent back a letter via the municipality's solicitors, setting out the refusal to budge from their previous April position.

There has as yet been no acknowledgment of the June 20 letter, Reeve J.B. Cumming

Saanichton Couple Return From South Pacific Trip

Mr. and Mrs. I.T. Farmer of Stellys Cross Road, Saanichton, recently returned from a three-month trip to the South Pacific.

They made a tour of East and North Australia, New Zealand and Hawaii. They went by C.P.A. Jet, flying six and a half miles high at 10 miles a minute. Even at this speed, the elapsed time between Vancouver and Sydney was 19 hours, about 16 of which was flying time. Landings were made at Honolulu and Nandi in Fiji for inspection and refueling.

The Palmers discovered a number of distant relatives in Sydney and Melbourne, their families having been represented in these areas many years ago. Mr. Palmer's sister Kate lives at Manly; this they made their headquarters, visiting other districts and people from Kate's home. Their itinerary included a visit to Canberra, Melbourne and surrounding country, as far as the hot dry country, then back to Sydney, north to Queensland and to the Great Barrier Reef.

The weather was almost constantly sunny, travel was long distance - sometimes two to three hundred miles between large towns. The cities of Melbourne and Sydney are very large, containing almost half of the entire Australian population. Temperatures of 100 degrees are common in summer time and in the northern area 70 degrees is the lowest winter temperature at noon.

High spot for visitors appears to be the "Gold Coast" in Queensland, the centre of which is "Surfers Paradise". The Palmers spent a week there. Although it was almost mid-winter at the time of their visit, the beaches were crowded at 9 and 10 a.m., the temperature at noon being from 70 to 75 degrees. The Gold Coast has 1,500 hotels and motels in its 20 mile length and restaurants and cafes. There are daily porpoise shows at Coolangub, wild parrots (Lorikeets) shows at Cumbria, and possibly the world's fastest and most colorful water ski show on Cheyenne Island. After Australia, they flew to Auckland for a few days. New Zealand was quite sunny and a very green land generally expensive - but its people are very friendly and the hunting and fishing for sport-inclined tourists is out of this world - no licences required!

The rest of the trip was made by ocean liner. First stop was Suva in the Fiji Islands - a very colorful place, especially the exotic market place. Here are all the colors of the rainbow! On very primitive stalls, wealth of sea and jungle are set forth.

A trip was taken to Nu Kumaru Island where the launch is greeted in welcome by Fijian men in breechcloths and bands of banana palm around their heads, arms and ankles, and by Fijian maids in real grass skirts and adorned with red hibiscus blooms. It was the native ceremonial - the greeting songs of welcome. Then there was a "kava" ceremony (this is fermented coconut milk) where, after each native has been served, each maid offers the "kava cup" - (coconut shell) to each male present and as he empties the cup she kisses him on the cheek. The native young men do likewise to all the women visitors present. Then there's a huge lunch, set under coconut palms, while a band of natives entertains with songs of the Islands, beating time with huge cane instruments and drums, Hawaiian guitars and horn instruments. Then the Fijian men perform the war dances, with spears trimmed with brilliant feathers, and finally everyone - white and black together - dance for an hour under the coconut palms in what could be termed happy abandon.

To close the trip there was a day's visit to Oahu in beautiful Hawaii, again the colorful market place, the Waikiki Beach - then home to Canada.

Plane Soars Over Beacon Hill

An incoming passenger plane roars low over Beacon Hill, anchored during Wednesday night at Patricia Bay. The Prestonian class frigate, built on the west coast, was commissioned in 1943 and took part in the monumental Battle of the Atlantic. Now the only commissioned frigate in the Canadian Navy, it is used for training officer cadets and reserves. The Beacon Hill has recently returned from a training voyage to southern California and Mexico.

Reeve Reports On Land Use

Speaking to Central Saanich council at the last meeting Reeve R. Gordon Lee said that while in Britain he had enquired with interest in certain aspects of local government.

On the matter of land use he speculated whether it may be expedient in the future for ultimate responsibility to be assumed by some such agency as the Capital Region Planning Board.

He said that in Britain "land use is considered down to the last detail," by a constituted higher authority, not by the local council.

Another Subdivision Application Is Made

New addition to the rapidly mounting list of sub-division applications was formally received by Central Saanich council last week.

Property proposed for division into three to five acre properties is 42.78 acres on Dooley Road between Old East Road and Hunt Road, said by the municipal clerk to be classified as land liable to flooding. It was stated, however, that there is no experience of this land flooding.

The application was "certified habitable" by engineers Russell E. Potter and Associates as required by the municipal subdivision by-law.

Stated to be traversed by a drainage ditch at its lowest point, and to be traversed by the Lochside Drive road allowance, the property may be the site of future greenhouse operations, it was indicated.

Storm Signals

(BY "MATTHEW CASTLE")

Under the green-ruffled water the violet crab scuttles, raising small sea-clouds of mud as it hurries apace wending its way to the brownish and oily kelp-bed, there to join the sea-creatures each seeking his own hiding-place. Grey clouds descend on the muscle-strained hills of the island growling and watchful, rainfilled and ready to lash. Threats of a storm soon to surge on the rain-speckled harbour recoil from a sunburst, the cloud leaking gold from a gash. The sea, winking gaily, returns to a lighthearted dancing; the hills soften greenly as, daunted, the cloud drifts away. The crab takes a tentative step from the sheltering seaweed; a harvest of gold from the heavens has brightened our bay.

WIT'S END

By WINDSOR

If my geography is correct, eight of our ten provinces border on salt water. The only two inland ones are Alberta and Saskatchewan, but I would be willing to take a modest bet that these two produce almost as many sailors and would be sailors as the rest combined. Their inhabitants dream of the boundless ocean as exiles dream of a distant homeland, and to satisfy this deep craving, and to feel of a hearing deck and the sound of the wind whistling through the rigging, many prairie cities have, at great expense, built municipal lakes where their citizens can play boats.

I can boast all about this feeling because I was born there myself, and like any true stubble jumper, the salt water simply bubbles through my veins. When I read of Sir Francis Chichester's single handed trip around the world, or one of the Smeaton stories about adventurous voyages in small boats, it does something to me and I start thinking of selling the car, mortgaging the house and setting off for the South Seas or the Caribbean in some handy little motor saller. Actually the only thing that has held me back is that my wife doesn't share this dream. Apparently the prospect of high seas adventure doesn't do a thing for her and she has turned down innumerable excellent offers to come along as cook-crew, preferring to do her voyaging in nothing smaller than the Queen Elizabeth.

Mind you, this may be all for the best, because I'm not certain whether wives do make the best crews. From what I have heard they sometimes develop a nasty mitinous streak far removed from their normal charming natures. Take for example the experience of a friend of mine, a former Albertan and therefore naturally, an old sea dog. During those long prairie winters he dreamed of tropical Islands and now, out on the coast, he has just bought himself a boat, a real beauty that has everything, including sails and a motor.

Before starting on anything big, like Solomon's or Jamaica he decided on a shakedown cruise to Pender Island. Shipping the little woman as crew together with any odd charts that came to hand, he shot the sun, cast the lead, took a number of bearings, set his cap at a rakish angle and set off. Hour after hour they sailed. The morning passed and then the afternoon, but still no sign of Pender on the horizon.

"You just can't rely on these charts," he muttered, decided to ask directions at a passing light-house which, he noted with some annoyance, was flying an American flag. "They should be flying the Maple Leaf," he growled. "Are you right for Pender?" echoed the keeper in a startled tone. "Hell no, you're 20 miles inside American waters and heading straight for San Diego."

Retracing their steps, that's probably not quite the right expression, the wind gave out and they switched to the engine. Putting his wife at the wheel, he started to get the big sail in, only to have it jam about half way down the mast. As he worked up forward, trying to clear the obstruction, his helmswoman spotted a log dead ahead, and took very sharp evasive action, forgetting unfortunately to tell him. The next thing my friend knew was that he was sprawled stomach down across 'is deck, with his feet dangling 'in the water.

With some difficulty recovering both his footing and his dignity, he stormed aft in a very captain-like manner and severely reprimanded the crew. After about a ten minute lecture on his deck, one's shortcomings he paused for breath, and so to pick up something lying on the deck. Then it happened, many at sea. His wife, no doubt possessed by a devil took the opportunity to deliver a very swift kick which sent him sprawling.

I won't go into the intimate family scene that followed, suffice it is to say that my friend is still determined to find Pender, even if he has to give up those unreliable charts and use only "the road maps of Vancouver Island and adjacent waters put out by the gas companies. Also he is not sure whether he will take his wife along next time, feeling that maybe those ancient mariners were right when they said that women on a ship were a jinx.

Reflections From the Past (TAKEN FROM THE EARLY FILES OF THE REVIEW)

5 YEARS AGO

Traffic on the Sidney-Anacortes ferry was reported tripled over the previous year, when 32,979 persons landed at the western terminus of the run... a new soft ice cream machine has arrived at the Sidney Dairy Bar... new look to town as the older sidewalks were ripped out and the road repaved along Beacon Ave.

10 YEARS AGO

Volunteers were sought to assist in the construction of the new community hall in Sidney, now known as SANSCHA hall... secretary-treasurer of the Sidney Waterworks District for the past 10 years, William Peddle, has retired... Councilor Harry Peard complains about road oil all over everything, even his carpets.

25 YEARS AGO

Ratepayers of the North Saanich Consolidated Rural School District were urged to consider the establishment of a public health nursing service... moth crystals advertised at 25 cents at Baal's Drug Store in Sidney... telephone installations restricted due to the war.

45 YEARS AGO

A letter to the editor from John W. Meldrum said: "Having a few days ago read in the Sidney Review that I have built a swimming float for the use of the public, I wish you would contradict that statement, as the float was built for my family's private use."

rung up in Sidney stores' cash registers.

Perhaps it has been forgotten by some of our citizens, but Sandown Park has also been a boon to North Saanich and Sidney in that at least on two occasions the park has been the scene of July 1 festivities, thanks to the racing authorities granting its use for "free".

Being arbitrary or obdurate in making such demands upon the racing association may bring about a cessation of racing in North Saanich and our racing fans may spend their money and wager their bets upon the mainland. That cannot help the citizens of North Saanich nor of Sidney. The sum of $130 a day is a lot of money to pay out and I believe the racing association has only had two years when a profit of modest proportions was made. I would advise North Saanich to think again.

PROTOCOL

I take particular exception to a "leading" on Page 10 of the issue of 28 June, 1967: "Mr. Pearkes" to open Ganges Park. General Pearkes, V.C., who is Her Majesty's representative for or in B.C., is not a "Mr." He can be "His Honour," as you refer later to him, in the article, or even General, but surely not "Mr." as "the Queen's Man" in British Columbia.

Probably the fact that on the same day that I read of "Mr. Pearkes," I also heard a CBC announcer state that this present visit of the Queen would probably be her last visit as Monarch of Canada, prompted me to write this letter.

After 40 years as a Canadian citizen and prior to that of Southern Ireland, where I was born and brought up, does not explain my loyalty to the Crown. Possibly, five years in the Canadian Army in the Second World War, most of it in England and then various European countries and finally Germany may account for part of it, or perhaps it is still just Irishness!

Should Canada lose her ties with the Crown, the alternative would be a republic and or to become part of the United States. It was bad enough to lose the Red Ensign, but I do not wish to have for a flag the Stars and Stripes, even though I am not at all anti-American.

In 1922, Ireland became a Free State and years later a republic, because the Irish Prime Minister lost his temper when he was "subdued" by a Northern Irishman, Viscount Alexander of Tunis. The Irish premier of that time was so furious that he stated: "To hell with all of them, we'll become a republic!" And so they did and are. Until 1967, they enjoyed no mutual preferences of association with the Crown of Great Britain and even worse, the preferences which membership of the

Witnesses Hancock May Bring To Converge Cougars To Council On Nanaimo

About 600 delegates of the Victoria and district congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses will be leaving town the week-end of July 13-16 to attend the four day "Disciple Making" district assembly to be held in Nanaimo at the Arena. There will be representatives of all Island congregations as well as visiting delegates from United States and from Eastern Canada and the attendance is expected to exceed 1500 persons.

Ralph Reeves, Sidney presiding minister and spokesman here for the Witnesses, told of the mammoth job it is to prepare to feed and house so many visitors to one city for four days. He said that already in Nanaimo a door-to-door search for rooms was being conducted by scores of Nanaimo Witnesses and that by the peak of the assembly approximately 300 volunteer workers will be operating 22 separate departments: each necessary for the smooth functioning of so large an assembly.

For example, one group is now painting road signs and two 40 foot banners to advertise the event while another group is designing and preparing to erect and decorate a large stage or platform in the Arena to transform it into a large size Kingdom Hall for four days. The cook and his assistant are planning menus and arranging to feed 1,500 persons 3 meals a day while there.

"This assembly," Mr. Reeves said, "will be unique in its scope. For example, how would you like to see enacted on the stage dramatic portrayals of Bible events that have meaning for us today, or hear discourses on how to combat the trials of complex living while holding fast to Christian principles?" "The climax will come," Mr. Reeves continued, "Sunday at 3 p.m. in the form of the widely advertised public lecture 'Rescuing a Great Crowd of Mankind out of Armageddon', a talk that contains food for thought even for those persons who are not Bible students."

This assembly is open to all the public as are the 17 other assemblies held in Canada this year.

Two of the young cougars that were recently featured in Vancouver television program... in residence at Island View Beach. Central Saanich council was so informed last week.

Propriety of the presence of the predatory cats reared in captivity by naturalist Dave Hancock was debated.

"I am informed that after July 1 he would have to have a provincial permit," said Councillor Mrs. M.E. Salt.

Mr. Hancock was a recent visitor to the council chamber, when he gave notice of his intention to use the Island View property as a base for wild life photographic and research expeditions. He requested permission to erect the necessary housing for birds of the bald eagle and peregrin falcon species, subjects of his graduate thesis.

Saying that he also plans to provide pond facilities for water-fowl, Mr. Hancock stipulated that it was not his intention to open a zoo for paid admissions. His recent expeditions were in association with the B.C. Fish and Wildlife Branch, and the birds are considered by the International Union for the Conservation of Nature to be endangered species, he stated.

"I feel that Mr. Hancock is a wild life scientist of standing, and that he certainly does not wish to keep a zoo," commented Councillor A.M. Galbraith.

On the motion of Councillors Harold Andrew and Mrs. Salt, council resolved to request Mr. Hancock to attend its July 17 meeting.

GANGES

Mr. and Mrs. W.N. McDermott, who were presented with Pioneer medals by His Honour Lieutenant-Governor G.R. Pearkes at the opening of the centennial park, had their five daughters and daughters present for the special occasion. Among those present were Mrs. A. Laska and daughter Wendy, Ladysmith; Mr. and Mrs. W. Marks with Greg Marks and Mrs. Peter Marks, Port Alberni; Mrs. R.M. Kirkham and son Rod, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon MacAfee with Judith and Jenny, North Vancouver.

Recent visitors of Mrs. Edith Barber, Rainbow Road were her daughter Mrs. J. Kennedy and children and Miss Elizabeth French all from Barrie, Ontario; also Mrs. Barber's grandson and wife Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Kennedy and family, Gibsons, B.C.

Mrs. Dorothy Wroblewski, social editor of the Victoria Daily Colonist is spending a month's holiday at her Vesuvius Bay home.

Mrs. Laurence Milos, Vancouver was a visitor last week of Mr. and Mrs. Webster Davidson, Alders Ave.

They visited relatives in Saskatoon, Moosomin and Antler, Sask., and Virden, Man. July 1 was a happy family reunion for the Wood family, when Mr. Wood and his two brothers and two sisters and many immediate relatives, which included their daughter Margery with her husband and family of Virden, gathered at the home of one of the sisters - both of whom reside at Antler.

Harold's brother Frank, a former resident of Saanichton and now residing in Victoria, was there with his wife, they having been to Expo '67 and stopping for the reunion on their way back from Montreal. The youngest brother and family came from Virden for the happy occasion. Since the town of Antler was also observing a Centennial Celebration on July 1, Mr. and Mrs. Wood renewed acquaintance with many old friends and neighbors and brought back with them many pleasant memories.

Mrs. J. Bellavance, Durrance Road, accompanied by her daughters Pamela and Karen and June Farrell, returned Monday evening from a three day camping trip to Parksville and Miracle Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Clive and son, formerly of Kitchener, Ont., have taken up residence on Veyness Road. Mr. Clive is the son of Mr. N. Clive, Shoreacres Resthome and the late Mrs. Clive.

Harbour In Early Summer

(BY "MATTHEW CASTLE")

One boat lies anchored off the desolate docks, a faint harbinger in the morning's grey of fuller summer and of cruising flocks who sail in for their two-week times of play, and paint their happy names along the rocks that form a craggy shelf around the bay. The early fog fades with each sunny glint; above, the blue is building, slow and sure; soft, glittering sky gives forth a tenuous hint or rising tempo and of temperature.

Far Reaching

Effects of Expo in far away Montreal are far reaching. The economy of western Canada, it seems, is gaining a decided stimulus because of the successful world's fair in the Quebec metropolis.

It is reported that a well groomed and obviously affluent lady arrived in her car recently via State of Washington Ferries at the Port of Sidney. On clearing customs and immigration here, she asked directions as to how to drive to Expo. She was dismayed when she was advised to turn to the right and drive about 3,000 miles. She had learned that Expo was in Canada and it had not occurred to her that, having arrived in Canada, she could not visit Expo at once. The lady turned to the right and presumably is still heading towards Montreal.

The unfortunate lady's case is not the only one reported here. Several motorists on disembarking from the ferry here have inquired what route to take to Expo. It all adds up to good business for B.C. Ferries and other service firms.

Once More

Okanagan Bing cherries are offered in the fruit stands of local stores this week. A brisk sale of the luscious fruit is reported on the Saanich Peninsula.

At the same time the interior cherries reached this area, squadrons of crows and starlings were just finishing off the local crop. Once again local residents grew bountiful crops of cherries -- but again they were all fed to the birds.

This unhappy and uneconomic condition will continue until opposition is raised and the raiding is stopped.

Letters To The Editor

RACING

I am of the opinion that the council of the Municipality of North Saanich would be well advised to reconsider its stand relative to the Sandown Racing Park and Jack Diamond.

I hold no brief for the racing association or its officers; though I am quite keen to see good racing.

I would here like to set out a somewhat parallel situation which confronted the council of the then Municipality of Sidney when, in 1919, the Sidney Roofing Co. decided to move its plant which employed many persons of the town and in the North Saanich area; and this company had been founded here in 1910.

The chief reason for the loss of this industry was the shortsightedness of the council in adamantly refusing to grant certain water concessions to Sidney Roofing Co. Sidney lost an industry; citizens were east adrift from employment; and their day to day necessities bought from local stores and caterers were cut off and curtailed by loss of employment. So many persons suffered by reason of the stand taken by Sidney council.

Races held in Sidney bring many people, hotels and motels enjoy full patronage, stores and caterers do a good business, help is needed to caterers provided in various ways and mediums. Our citizens may enjoy seeing the "bangtalls" sweeping around the turn into the home stretch. The lucky ones in turn go to the rear of the grandstands and pick up their winnings. And this is reflected in perhaps more sales

Three Birthdays In One Family Celebrated July 1

While everyone seemed to be celebrating Canada's birthday, with a Centennial ring-a-ding, Salt Spring Island went one better. At the Captain and Mrs. Les Mollet's home, they celebrated three birthdays in their family ranks and topped it all off by adding a dash of Centennial flavor to Canada's 100th birthday. Papa Bennett, age 80, (J.E. Bennett), daughter Terri, and Mrs. Mollet's sister Evelyn, (Mrs. Ron Lee) all celebrated birthdays on July 1st.

It was a real birthday bash - and it's really something to be able to share your country's birthday.

Congratulations were voiced to the three celebrants and to Canada.

Colored lights throughout the house were gay, while out on the lawn, the children played badminton and croquet.

A centennial birthday cake carried the names of the honored guests. A white carnation was presented to Papa Bennett, a yellow rose corsage to Miss Mollet and a corsage of pinks to Mrs. Lee. It was a happy birthday all around and perfect summer weather for the outdoors event.

welcome him back to the island and wish him a speedy recovery.

Congratulations to Jack and Grace Evans on their 20th Wedding Anniversary. Grace is gradually getting back to normal after her participation in the Centennial Program last Saturday. Their place was like Grand Central Station during the week end and were on the verge of renaming their home Bellevue Hotel. Heather has recovered after a day in bed with a sore chest and exhaustion.

The Jack Dunnes summer home has become an all year round home and will compare favourably with any posh home in Vancouver or elsewhere. Nan finally convinced friend husband that the top part of the chimney would look nice if it matched the patio and sure enough it does. Their family of swallows (Capistrano) which took up house-keeping in their front porch light have left the nest and now we are looking forward to seeing the pictures Nan took on Saturday. I wish these city folk wouldn't incorporate such elegance in to their island homes. It makes

MAYNE

(BY ELSIE BROWN)

There is hardly a person on this island these days who hasn't been painting, is planning on painting, or is not involved in some way in a remodelling or refurbishing program of some sort. Not to be outdone the Jesse Browns actually got a bit more work done on the chimney—even had a fire in the fireplace to see if it works. Our swallows have flown the coop so now we can get on with the inside finishing. A couple of tiny owls were perched on our picnic table and we watched them for about 20 minutes. The last ones I saw were on Keats Island at CGIT Camp 1937. Does that every give me age away!

Most of the conversation during this past week has been about the Dominion Day Celebration at our partly renovated Hall. Since the account of the program has already been published in The Review it only needs a few bouquets to those who were responsible for its success. Centennial Committee Representative for Mayne, Neil Imrie assisted by wife Clara were a couple of the hard workers. W.W. Hunt-Sowrey presented the medals, A.E. Donaghey was M.C., Mrs. Meg Drummond was in charge of the entertainment at which Celeste Evans gave her superb performance assisted by husband Harry Breyne and sister-in-law Grace Evans. Gladman led the community singing, and square dancing under the leadership of Lloyd and Donnie Wooden of North Surrey wound up the evening with old time dancing. Not too many with energy to participate but all agreed it was a day to remember.

We are sorry to hear the news that Clara Imrie's father, Mr. K. Goodall passed away in Lady Minto Hospital over the week end. Clara has left for Wilkie, Saskatchewan where the funeral will be held. We extend our sympathy to the Imrie family who reside at Bennett Bay.

Nice to hear from Jeannie Botterill who is away to Expo 67. Hope she doesn't return too exhausted to tell us of her impressions of this most important event in history. Daughter Wyn Minty is still making her regular visits to the

SIDNEY AHEAD OF LOS ANGELES

Joe Finnigan, veteran newspaperman turned TV guide producer, of North Hollywood, California, paid a fraternal call at The Review office this week. With Mrs. Finnigan and their six children, he is visiting Mrs. Finnigan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lunn of Laurel Road, Deep Cove. The writer is enthusiastic about the Saanich Peninsula. He noted that while the community of Sidney is served with TV cablevision, to the best of his knowledge this service is not available in Los Angeles.

Visiting their summer home on Fairway Rd. Bennett Bay, were Mr. and Mrs. E.C. Ross of Olds, Alberta. Also on the same street were joint owners of a summer home Carmen Ross and Mr. and Mrs. Don Lamb of Vancouver. With them were baby daughter Brenda and a friend Bonnie Becker of Vancouver.

On the ferry last week end were Fred Paton and sons Glen and Buck who are in the process of building a summer home on Fernhill Road. Heading back to Vancouver at 7:40 Sunday morning. Not many passengers going to the mainland at that time. Good time to travel for us islanders. Saw a couple of whales - no weren't seeing things. Had witnesses.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Burgess, Horton Bay Road, are RCAF Corporal and Mrs. Andrew Burgess and their four children, Lurine, Shirley, Sheila and Andrew who will be leaving shortly for LaHrs, Germany. We welcome them to the island and wish them well at their new home.

Dramatic Growth Of Canada Is Illustrated

and Prince Edward Island. Map at bottom left shows Canada in 1905 when the boundaries of Quebec, Ontario and Manitoba had been extended, the Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan formed, and the Yukon made a Territory. By 1949 the map of Canada has assumed its present outline with the joining of Newfoundland, following the final extensions of the boundaries of Quebec, Ontario and Manitoba.

New Super Food Developed To Feed World's Hungry

Scientists at the University of Manitoba have developed a super-food that promises new hope for the world's hungry.

The super-food, a rich protein-filled wheat derivative plant named Triticale (pronounced tri-ti-CAY-lee) is the first crop species ever developed by man. Triticale's grain-heavy head is at least twice as large as a normal wheat plant and in some tests it has yielded twice as much grain.

Several international agencies, most notably the Rockefeller Foundation's Agricultural Service, have investigated Triticale's potential as a hunger fighter and found the results encouraging.

With its richness in protein, and high yield per acre, the new plant may be the answer to much starvation in the world, says the associate director of the Food Service, Dr. Norman Borlaug. The Saturday Evening Post, in a three-page article in the July 1 edition, details development of the plant, calling it an "amazing" event.

The Post also pays tribute to Charles and Edgar Bronfman, and their sisters Minda and Phyllis, who were responsible in 1953 for setting up the chair at the University of Manitoba which carried out the research.

The Bronfmans, whose vast Distillers Corporation - Seagrams Limited company started as a small Winnipeg business, decided on the chair in recognition of their maternal grandfather, Samuel Rosner, a long-time Prairie farmer.

June Proves Sunny Month

June proved to be a sunny month, according to the monthly meteorological report of the experimental farm at Saanichton.

There was a total of 279.1 hours of sunshine, just under 20 hours more than the 54-year average records kept by the farm. By the same token, there was 62/100ths of an inch of rain during the month, which fell in a three-day period, and with the heaviest fall for one day being 43/100ths.

June's mean maximum temperature was 70.5 degrees, the mean minimum 52.2, and the mean temperature 61.4. The 54-year average shows a high for June of 67.0, a low of 49.8, and a mean of 58.4.

High temperature for the month was 84 on June 19, and the low was recorded at 46, on two successive days, the 13 and the 14.

Branches Dangerous, Sidney Council Told

Overhanging branches from a weeping willow tree at the intersection of Ardwell Ave. and Rest Haven Road are causing a safety hazard, Sidney council was told Monday night.

Town clerk A.M. Ferner and Corporal Harry Chambers of the RCMP Sidney detachment visited the spot recently and agreed on the danger of collision because of the obstructed vision caused by the leafy branches.

"Would this mean cutting back the tree on the property concerned?" asked Alderman J.E. Boshier.

"No," replied Mayor A.W. Freeman, "it would mean just cutting back the branches that overhang onto the public way."

He added that since the police agree the branches form a definite safety hazard, a letter is to be written to the property owner, asking this work be done.

Duck Farm Founder Dies

Long time resident of North Saanich and of Brentwood, Llewellyn G. Thomas passed away in Victoria on July 2 at the age of 87 years. He was a native of Gwiltfield, North Wales, and came to this district 50 years ago.

Mr. Thomas was the founder of the Sidney Duck Farm which he operated successfully for a number of years. He owned considerable real estate in both North Saanich and the Brentwood area and was active in business circles.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Lilly, at home; a brother, Robert Thomas of 1526 Belcher Ave.; sisters, Mrs. T. Davies and Mrs. Stephen Kinsey of Victoria; nieces and nephews. He was a member of Camosun Lodge No. 60, A.F. and A.M.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. T.G. Griffiths from Sands' Chapel in Victoria on July 5 and cremation followed.

Water Supply For Church

The regular quarterly meeting of St. Mark's Chancel Guild was held on July 5th at the home of Mrs. J.H. Doyell. Members were pleased to hear that their long campaign to provide some source of water for use at St. Mark's is at last coming to success. A rain water tank has been purchased by the guild and installed, gutters have been put in by the Parish, and soon

Sidney Port Busy in June

Nearly 5,000 non-Canadian cars passed through Sidney customs during June, the local office of national revenue reported this week.

There were a total of 127 Canadian autos, 2,486 foreign cars, carrying a total of 7,873 passengers. During the same period, 30 Canadian yachts carrying 112 passengers and 131 foreign yachts with 464 passengers, checked through the Sidney customs.

During June, customs also reported 122 Canadian foot passengers and 1178 foreign foot passengers, clearing here.

Independence Day Celebrated By Brisk Fire

July Fourth, the American Independence Day, was faced with sudden call to action when a fire-cracker, let off to celebrate the Glorious Fourth, went astray, and landed on a steep bank, covered with dried grass and underbrush. A spark would have been enough, and the flames licked their hungry way with glowing intensity.

To add to the problem, it was not possible to get the fire hose and equipment to the beach road, from Louie Odden's place to South Pender, so they had to load them on a speed-boat and taken them around to the South Pender scene of action. About 30 Islanders from all points swarmed to lend aid Independence is a fine thing, but this was just one more time when the Islanders got together, realizing their dependence on each other.

Two Steam Engines

Constructed as Centennial projects during the past winter, two working steam engine models will be on public display at Rust's jewellery store, Sidney, on Saturday next.

Gil Montgomery, 1860 Swart Bay Road, aided by his 15 year old son, has built a model of the original James Watt's parallel motion steam engine patented in 1784. The beam engine constructed by Ben Andrews, 9679 Seventh Ave., Sidney, is a working model of an engine used for paddle steamer propulsion, and is complete with reversing gear.

with a flood of rain and a sprinkling of donations, St. Mark's will have running water.

The Parish Fete will be held in the grounds of Harbour House on Wednesday, Aug. 2 and as usual St. Mark's Guild will have a home-baking stall. Church members and friends may expect a telephone call asking for their choicest bread, cakes and pies for sale at this popular stall.

The Guild has arranged to use some donated money to hire a boy to do some much needed raking and tidying-up in St. Mark's garden.

The next meeting will be held on October 7th in the Helen Leigh Spencer Sunday School hall at St. Mark's Church.

After adjournment tea was served in the pleasant patio by Mrs. Doyell, aided by Mrs. Smith and Mrs. J.B. Acland.

Should Build Greenhouses Elsewhere

An application to build commercial greenhouses on McDonald Park Road north of John Road was turned down at the most recent meeting of the North Saanich municipal council.

The application was referred to discussion by a committee of the whole on a motion by Councilors Nell North and T.C.M.

Is Board Still In Use?

Anybody still play with their McIntyre checkerboard?

For the uninformed, the board was the imaginative brainchild of the late Hugh I. McIntyre, a former publisher of The Review.

The board, according to Mr. McIntyre, "is the only radical change in design of board made in thousands of years".

Each player used 14 men, rather than 12, on the new board on which there were no double corners; instead, there was a zone in the centre of the board which gave the same amount of protection as the double corner on the old board.

Boards sold for $1 for a large size and 50¢ for the small size, Mr. McIntyre's advertising in 1929 said it was "a wonderful pastime for bright children".

Browning Harbour Marina Completed

Still a few more things to be completed at the new Marina, but it is now open, and has already been visited by many Islanders and visitors, who are loud in its praises. Scottish people will feel right at home in the Scot's Lair, which is designed in Scottish motif, with a real life bag-piper swinging his kilt around the fresh-water (heated) swimming pool.

The tennis pool is all set for the games to come, and the dining-room is in operation. It is not necessary to have reservations. There are Laundromat facilities. A small store is open and marina facilities all set to go. The public is more than welcome at any time, -- and transportation will be provided if desired.

Council Not Impeding

Central Saanich council was approached at last week's meeting with respect to further progress in the matter of the proposed sub-division of 110-acre Blink Bonnie farm, East Saanich Road.

Spokesman for the potential sub-dividers suggested council might indicate it has no objection to the plan preparatory to application to the Director of Pollution Control in respect of proposals to sewer the proposed development.

Reeve R. Gordon Lee said that council would be influenced by the opinion of the Metropolitan Board of Health, which has indicated that a ruling is not possible on the available information.

"It must be cleared through them; we could not make a recommendation otherwise," said the reeve. He added, "Council has no intention of impeding any genuine sub-division application."

More than 3,900 British Columbia residents hold more than 409,000 ordinary shares in the B.C. Telephone Company.

B.C. Telephone's Coastal Division covers 11,900 square miles in the Lower Mainland and Fraser Valley, or 3.3 per cent of the province's total area.

Water Bomber Fights Mount Finlayson Fire

Twelve hundred gallons of water splashes on the Mount Finlayson as a Canso fire bomber releases its load on the 25-acre forest fire that has blazed on the mountain side for the past 10 days.

The fire has now been controlled but it required, in addition to the countless dumps made by the bomber, 40 men, three caterpillar tractors, two water tankers and a helicopter, to subdue the flames.

While it was working on the fire, the water bomber, owned by Flying Fireman Co., and under contract to the B.C. Forest Service, made a drop every seven minutes, pouring 10,000 gallons an hour on the flames.

Burglar alarms to protect coin phones

Coin telephone stations in several Vancouver Island areas are being equipped with electronic burglar alarms, the B.C. Telephone Company announced today.

G.F. Auchinleck, manager of the company's Island Division, said the alarms have been put into service in coin phone stations of the Nanaimo area during recent weeks.

The alarms will be in service shortly in the Alberni and Duncan areas.

Mr. Auchinleck said the alarm system is designed so that any attempt to burglarize or vandalize a coin station will set off a signal in police headquarters and pinpoint the location of the booth involved so police can speed to the scene immediately. The individual attempting to burglarize or damage the coin telephone station would be unaware that the alarm had been triggered.

The company employs similar alarm equipment in coin station ions in the Victoria, Vancouver and Fraser Valley areas to protect coin telephones from theft and damage and has found that the use of this system brings a reduction in the number of attempts.

Mr. Auchinleck said he expects the use of the alarms in Nanaimo, Duncan and Alberni will have a similar effect.

He said there have been several cases of theft and damage in these areas during recent months, including four in the Alberni where entire telephone sets have been ripped from their locations and removed.

In Vancouver, during the past year, more than 20 arrests have been made where the alarm equipment was in use. Micro-switches are concealed within the coin telephone and the installation containing the alarm equipment appears to be identical to ordinary installations.

The Dogfish Shark

The dogfish shark, fisherman's shark, is one of 10 species of sharks found in B.C. waters. It is readily distinguishable from other members of the shark family by the presence of a sharp spine at the base of each of its two dorsal fins.

In the eastern Pacific its range covers the temperate sea region from California to the Gulf of Alaska, but its greatest abundance occurs between the Columbia River and northern Hecate Strait. In the Strait of Georgia, local populations are known to move about extensively but these are more or less separate from populations which inhabit Puget Sound and waters along the outer coast. Coastal populations demonstrate a seasonal movement, migrating northward in the spring and southward in autumn.

Fertilization of eggs is accomplished internally and is believed to take place around about December. The gestation period is approximately two years. Throughout the uterine life, "pup" is nourished by a large yolk sack attached to the ventral wall of its abdomen. The number of young produced may vary from 2 to 17 per litter, averaging about eight.

Detailed information on growth rate is still lacking but it is apparent that the dogfish grows very slowly. Estimation of age from growth rings on the dorsal spines suggests that it takes 10 years to reach a length of 24 to 30 inches and 20 years to reach a length of 33 to 40 inches. Maximum age is unknown, but it doubtless exceeds 40 years. Females are believed to reach maturity in 15 to 20 years. The largest dogfish reported in Pacific waters is 5 feet 3 inches. There are no official records from B.C. waters which exceed 1 foot.

During the first few years of life, the dogfish feeds on small

McMANUS RE-UNION

The McManus clan McManus - John McManus, Alec McManus Sr., Alec McManus, Jr. and their families, with relations from Alberta, Duncan and Victoria, got together for a reunion picnic last week and really made a day and a night of it.

The party met at the Scott Point Marina with sleeping bags and food, all bent on a do-it-yourself all out picnic.

"At one time," said Mrs. McManus Sr., "the swimming pool was filled with 1st, 2nd and 3rd, generations of the family from ages 2 years to 21 - and they had a good time."

McManus's sister, Mrs. Cora McGilguy of Victoria was the life of the party.

Others from the Capital City were Mr. and Mrs. Dave Gouldbrand, and their children, Ralph McCallum, and Mrs. Betty Barnes. From Duncan came Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Barnes and 2 children. And from far away Alberta, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brown, their two sons Grant and Terry.

That brings the McManus clan up to date with four generations enjoying Salt Spring Island sunshine.

bottom organisms, but as growth proceeds the diet increases in variety and includes various species of fish. A typical diet is difficult to define, for the dogfish is an opportunist and much depends on the season and the locality.

In an examination of stomach contents of more than 2,400 dogfish captured by trawls on various B.C. fishing grounds, evidence of salmon was encountered only four times. Species of most frequent occurrence in the diet were herring, sand lance (needle fish), hake, flatfish, smelts and various invertebrates such as shrimp, euphausiids (cod feed), crabs, octopus and squid.

MOLLARD IS COMMENDED

Following the motion of Councillors Harold Andrew and Mrs. M.E. Salt, a vote of thanks to Councillor C.W. Mollard was carried with acclamation at the meeting of Central Saanich council last week.

Councillor Mollard's tenure of the office of acting-reeve in the absence on vacation of Reeve R. Gordon Lee was recognized with appreciation by the mover of the resolution, and a further tribute was offered by the reeve.

Following council's policy of rotating the office of deputy reeve, Councillor Salt was appointed in that capacity for the month of July.

Weekend Outing For Employees

On June 24, people consisting of employees, wives and children of Tridel Construction, in Vancouver, were treated to a weekend on Galiano Island, guests of president John Rees, Mrs. Rees secretary-treasurer for the company, and their family.

They all stayed at Galiano Lodge, lunched there for the two days, on Saturday night had a salmon barbecue at Montague Marine Park. Chef was Tom Caroline, assisted by Rod Rees, and several ladies to serve the succulent salmon, baked potatoes, and all the trimmings.

On Sunday night, the Rees family hosted a buffet supper on their spacious ranch veranda.

All agreed that employees of Tridel just have to be the luckiest in the world, having a Centennial treat like this!

Central Saanich On Spot

Over Highway Route

An alleged diversion of the natural water flow when the Patricia Bay Highway was engineered has produced a long standing dispute in Central Saanich, culminating last week in a letter to council from lawyers Straith, McIntosh and Co.

According to Councillor T.G. Michell, chairman of the public works committee, the existing culverts of the railway right-of-way fulfilled their function quite normally, but on construction of the highway a new culvert was installed by the provincial department of highways on Newman Road, partly on private property and the flow of water was diverted.

On behalf of their client W.A. Tangye, 2534 Newman Road, solicitors have demanded that council take action to protect the private property from erosion. Quoting the Municipal Act as to municipal responsibility, council is asked to attend to the matter this summer even if negotiations with the provincial department have not been concluded.

So far, said Councillor Michell, the department has offered to remove the culvert, but they will not be responsible for its replacement.

"They put it there, and partly on his property. I don't think we should take it out," remarked Councillor Michell. "I told them at the time that there would be erosion at the sea," he stated.

Reference to the municipal solicitors to make plain the chain of responsibility was first considered by council, but eventually it was resolved to have further conference with the department of highways engineers.
